TACOMA Wash June 3—Department of justice agents distributed circular describing the 200 bank notes with which the event of George Weyerhaeuser was ransomed last week as Volney Davis one man suspected the abduction of the heir to a timber fortune pleaded guilty to a part in the Bremer kidnaping when arraigned in St Paul

J Edgar Hoover director of the federal bureau of investigation said Davis was taken Saturday

Cohort of Karpis

Davis an associate of Alvin Karpis a hunted for the Bremer kidnaping was identified ten a it e last week as having been here May 24 the day George was kidnaped and held for $200,000 ransom.

Government agents disclaimed knowledge of the authenticity of a Seattle newspaper article today which said a mysterious automobile found in Seattle Saturday after George was freed belonged to George uncle F Rodman Titcomb They also denied knowledge of the newspaper report that Titcomb was the intermediary who delivered the ransom to the kidnapers that the transaction was in the woods near Elma about six miles west of here and that the kidnapers set Titcomb afoot after stealing his car

The newspaper (Seattle Post Intelligencer) said Titcomb was found by Charles Ingram assistant general manager of the lumber company who followed him in another car

Says Titcomb Paid

George was quoted Saturday as saying Titcomb paid it It was not revealed how he knew

The bulletin describing the ransom money lists the numbers of nine United States notes and 19,091 federal notes

The federal reserve notes are all of the L series but are not in sequence Thus it takes fifty five booksize pages to list the bills starting with L00000034A and L0000377S (asterisk) and ending with L35649334 and L35979275A

The lists were being distributed to banks and all other places where large amounts of money are handled

Various persons here have reported they saw Davis in this vicin

NRA ARGUMENT GROWS HEATED

Norris Would Shear Courts of Power To Rule Laws Unconstitutional

BORAH FOR POPULAR VOTE

Claims People Should Decide Question of States Versus Central Government

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON June 3 While the capital awaited President Roosevelt s next move on NRA and saw indications that he would seek to make the question of federal power over major economic and social questions a leading issue in 1936 the fight over the idea of changing the constitution sharpened today

Sen Borah Republican of Idaho was on record with a declaration that the constitution now gives the government enough power to cope with emergency In effect he dared the Roosevelt administration to seek an amendment Defending the supreme court s NRA decision as the only one it could have reached under the constitution he said

Those who feel that the states should be shorn of their power in whole or in part owe it to the people to submit their proposals to the people in the way of a definite amendment

Sen Norris Republican of Nebraska on the other hand favored a constitutional amendment depriving the courts of all power to hold any law unconstitutional Although he expressed the belief nothing could be done in this congress about an amendment he said

This is the only civilized country in the world in which a law passed by the parliament and approved by the executive can be overruled by a supreme court

I'm not criticizing the court in any of the decisions it has made but it does illustrate that we are a government by injunction

The supreme court s power to void laws will be one topic discussed at a special council of war of American Federation of Labor leaders called for next Thursday by President William Green Describing the supreme court decision as a severe and stunning blow to economic advancement and social progress Green summoned the union s executive council to the parle

RAISES PRICE TO $1,200,000

Officials Mail Proposal to New York Company and PWA Today.

$36 000 MORE THAN FIRST

Message Explains Manner In Which Figure Was Arrived At

The city of Marion is offering $1 200 000 to the Community Water Service Co of New York City for the property of the Marion Water Co in a letter mailed by city officials today

This figure is the city s second offer approximately $36 000 more than its first bid still $550 000 short of the sale price of $1 750 000 fixed by the water company

Mayor Clarence A Bolin preparing to mail the letter said a copy will be sent to the PWA board of review in Washington to keep the board advised as to negotiations for purchase of the plant

The PWA board is withholding decision on the city s application for funds to build a new municipal plant pending outcome of negotiations for purchase of the present plant by the city

Offer Presents Arguments

The city s new offer is accompanied by a brief summary of the city s arguments as to why it refuses to pay $1 750 000 for the plant and why it feels the property is worth only $1 200 000

Mayor Bolin said the city will wait until the water company takes action on the new offer before planning any other moves

The city s offer in part follows

The city of Marion hereby offers the Marion Water Co for its plant equipment and distribution system the sum of $1 200 000 This offer of purchase was arrived at after careful and deliberate investigation of the records as to the valuation of the plant and distribution system as well as the investments actually made in stocks, bonds and additions to said plant on file with the public utility commission of Ohio

Before giving in detail the actual figures on which the city bases its offer of purchase the opportunity is hereby taken to explain the reason why the city refuses the offer of the water company to purchase its plant at the figure of $1 750 000

In conference with the officials of the water company on May 28, it was disclosed in the presentation the offer of sale that $2 051-872 80 represented investments in the company of which $487 800 represented preferred stock $700 000 five per cent bonds and $869 772 80 represented common stock held by the Ohio Cities corporation The difference between the offer made and the actual investments in said company is represented to be a loss which the company is willing to assume We believe the figures as to the amount invested in the preferred stock and in five per cent bonds to be correct We do however take exceptions to the claim that $869 772 80 represents money actually invested in common stock held by the Ohio Cities corporation

Reviews History

On Nov 23 1923 the Marion Water Co was purchased by the present company for the sum of $755 000 which amount included $350 000 in preferred stock and $400 000 in five per cent bonds At the time of purchase the stock holders of the old company were to receive 5 000 shares of common stock of no par value as part of the purchase price which in our opinion was carried as of the value of $1 per share making a total as heretofore stated of $755 000 paid for the preferred stock bonds and common stock

We believe that the valuation of $486,291 placed on the 5 000 shares of common stock as disclosed by the records on file with the public utility commission represented an appraisal increase of the assets of the old company and did not represent invested capital In no way can we ascertain how

Something To Save

(Will Rogers Special)

LOS ANGELES Calif June 3 —Well sir a forlorn looking gentleman come to my house this Sunday afternoon Said he was one of Roosevelt s cabinet, and he looked it It was Mr. Roper, secretary of commerce

I try to make it a point to never turn anybody away First one of the new deal I had seen since the supreme court took their matches away from 'em. But he was a game southern gentleman, no kicks no squawks He and I searched around through the burned embers to see if any little new deal object might be salvaged.

We decided that Big Business operating under the old "dog eat dog" plan so many dogs would eventually get bit that parts of the NRA would look like a halo by 1936

WHEN LIVES ARE AT STAKE

You need the same tire protection that race drivers demand

Kelly Petillo ON MAY 30, WON the 500-mile Indianapolis Race on Firestone Tires, breaking the track record and driving the entire distance at a rate of 106.240 miles per hour.

This record is an astounding demonstration of tire efficiency. To go 500 miles in less than five hours on this rough and bumpy 26-year-old brick track, without tire trouble of any kind, demonstrates the strength and blowout protection that Firestone builds into their Gum-Dipped Tires.

AB JENKINS ALSO RECENTLY demonstrated the stamina, efficiency, and blowout protection built into Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires. He drove his 5000 pound car over the hot salt beds at Lake Bonneville, Utah, 3000 miles in 23½ hours. This was an average speed of 127.2 miles per hour, and although temperatures were as high as 120°, he had no blowouts or tire trouble of any kind.

There are reasons why Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires give such amazing blowout protection. Every cord is soaked and every strand is insulated with pure liquid rubber, preventing internal friction and heat, the main cause of blowouts. Gum-Dipping is a patented extra process not used in any other make of tire.

Take no chances—protect your life and the lives of others by letting us equip your car today with Firestone Tires and give you the Safety and Blowout Protection that race drivers demand.

Before you buy new tires ask yourself these three questions

1—"Will the tread give me the greatest traction and protection against skidding?"	Answer No. 1—Leading university tests show Firestone High Speed Tires stop your car 15% quicker than the best of all popular makes of tires.
2—"Are they built to give me the greatest blowout protection?"	Answer No. 2—Unequaled performance records for sixteen consecutive years prove that Gum-Dipping gives you the greatest blowout protection ever known
3—"Without sacrificing these two important safety features will they give me longer mileage, thus making them the most economical tires I can buy?"	Answer No. 3—Thousands of car owners report unequaled mileage records—evidence of the longer wear and greater economy of Firestone High Speed Tires.

1 Leading University tests show Firestone Tires stop your car 15 to 25% quicker
2 Gum-Dipped cords give greater blowout protection. Gum Dipping is not used in any other make of tire
3 More and tougher rubber with wider, flatter tread gives more than 50% longer non-skid wear

Want to Train Pigs

"We shouldn't take 'em" Junior explained "cause they're awful little but we want to begin training 'em to do tricks pretty soon—you can't begin too early with animals you know—and we're afraid we might stay so long that they'd be too big to start by the time we got back. They grow awful fast you know pigs do."

"Yes I know" Dicky [illegible] with a gravity which I knew must be costing him much. Then he turned back to the list in his hand.

"Scottie" he read "and his collar and his leash and his rug to lie on and some balls for him to chase for us."

I sent up a paean of thankfulness that the collie which was already scheduled to make the journey with us was so high on the list.

"Bagheera and Baloo" Dicky read slowly then looked at his son and his nephew questioningly.

"I recognize the Jungle Book" he said "but surely you haven't brought any panthers or bears to live at the farm?"

More Answers to Queries on Cookery, Homemaking

[illegible] when I find [illegible] for me when [illegible] beaten [illegible] olds do you [illegible] monotonous [illegible] dessert [illegible] menu after [illegible] such and [illegible] the women who [illegible] and then and a [illegible] they could serve [illegible] ing dinners serving them day after day [illegible] week after week

There [illegible] sea food for one [illegible] versa on Canned and [illegible] shellfish and fish offer [illegible] many possibilities And with one question before me [illegible] cook shrimp? What [illegible] you [illegible] I shall give one of my favorite [illegible] sauce

Shrimp Creole

Shrimp is one of the [illegible] used foods in the famous [illegible] cooking of the South In preparation for market the heads of the shrimp are pulled off which operation removes a [illegible] of the [illegible] leaving only the black sand vein down the back of the body This must be removed before cooking or serving using a pointed knife or fork to scrape it out or by splitting the shrimp in half

If fresh shrimp are bought plunge them into boiling salted water using two teaspoons of salt to one quart of water and boil until the shells turn pink which is about 10 minutes Let cool in the water Pull the shells off and remove vein and rinse in running cold water If canned shrimps are used for the following dish remove the vein and wash as for fresh shrimp The shrimp are now ready for various uses as in the following recipe for shrimp Creole

One cup prepared shrimp two tablespoons melted butter one cup chopped onion one cup chopped green pepper one half clove garlic chopped one pint stewed or canned tomatoes one eighth teaspoon paprika one fourth teaspoon pepper one half teaspoon salt

Melt the butter add paprika and stir Add onion green pepper and garlic and simmer until tender then add the tomatoes salt and pepper Boil five minutes Place the shrimp in this sauce and boil for 10 minutes Serve hot Enough for six

Other Uses

A favorite use of freshly prepared shrimps is in salad Chill the cooked and cleaned shrimp marinate in French dressing Pile six to eight shrimp in a crisp cold lettuce leaf add a few chopped capers and pickle and a spoonful of mayonnaise

Add chopped shrimp prepared shrimp and chopped celery to potato salad for a good mixture Serve cold prepared shrimps with chili sauce as shrimp cocktail

Heat prepared shrimp in medium white sauce for creamed shrimps serve on toast

French Frying Again

The question comes frequently How do you French fry potatoes? The recipe follows but remember that other vegetables and many other foods are also delicious when prepared in the deep fat frying kettle Try dipping some of the prepared shrimps discussed above in batter then frying in deep hot fat Especially nice as a luncheon entree or main dish

Now for the potato recipe

Pare five or six potatoes Cut in strips one half inch thick and soak in cold water (ice water is best) one hour Drain Dry between towels and lower into deep hot fat in a frying basket and fry until delicate brown Drain on paper toweling Sprinkle with salt while still warm These are served hot or cold To keep them hot set the pan of draining potatoes in the oven leaving the door open

Cheese Cake Again

Have you a good recipe for cheese cake? This question comes almost as often as the one on lemon meringue pie Both are in every standard every day working cook books I dont mind repeating them but Id rather give space to new recipes Here is the cheese cake again

Rich pastry to line a very deep pie dish one cup cottage cheese one half cup cream four eggs yolks and whites beaten separately two tablespoons sugar one half cup blanched almonds one cup currants one fourth teaspoon salt

Mix cream with cheese add beaten yolks sugar salt nuts and currants and fold in the stiffly beaten whites last Brush slightly beaten egg white on the pie crust pour mixture in dash the top with about two teaspoons ground cinnamon and bake in a hot oven 4[illegible] degrees F (or five hundred) for ten minutes then turn the oven to moderate 3[illegible]5 degrees F and bake twenty minutes longer

Chicken Pie

One fowl cleaned and dressed two tablespoons butter two tablespoon flour one eight teaspoon celery salt one teaspoon salt one half teaspoon pepper six hard cooked eggs eight small boiled potatoes

Cut the fowl into pieces and parboil in salted water for one hour Cut meat from the bones Drain off the water in which the fowl has been cooked Put in the butter flour and seasoning with the liquid from the boiling in a double boiler Stir constantly until it is creamy

Line a deep baking dish with rich biscuit dough Put in a layer of sliced eggs and some of the potatoes Pour over this some of the sauce then add another layer of chicken eggs and potatoes Cover the top with a thin layer of biscuit dough making several gashes so the steam can escape Bake in a hot oven 4[illegible]0 degrees F for fifteen minutes until the dough is delicately browned Serve in the dish in which it has baked

SYNOPSIS

Daphne Sim[illegible] the woman who is to marry Alison's [illegible] father [illegible] Westminster [illegible] Dr [illegible] Lumley [illegible] that [illegible] Daphne is marrying Mr [illegible] for his money [illegible] Alison [illegible] girl [illegible] saying I'm [illegible] to tor[illegible]

CHAPTER 30
Dr Lumley

"IS she badly hurt?" Alison put the question to a woman with a battered straw hat who was working her way out of the front rank—a fat woman with a motherly face

Doctor in there says she's all right the woman replied promptly but she's had a nasty knock poor little thing

Alison squeezed forward a bit she must get hold of Guy

Stand back there please Dont keep crowding in The policeman swept his arm out like a barrier repeating his warning impartially to the whole crowd Alison on the other side of the blue outstretched arm tried to catch Guy's eye but he was busy answering the questions of the second policeman and he did not even look towards her though she was a bare foot away

If you'd give me your name and address sir— The stub of pencil and the fat notebook were in waiting

My name's Lumley Dr Guy Lumley And the address is care of Dr Dunda—

Alison did not wait to hear more Guy Lumley Daphne was right

She flung her head up blindly turned and pushed past the crowd round the first corner conscious of nothing except a sick longing to get away quickly

She walked so fast that she was almost running as she sped blindly through the little dirty streets which make a maze of Soho Greasy looking loungers at the street corners and blowsy women who went unshod in shawls stared at her as she hurried past the low grey grimy houses the garlic scented stores and the eating houses which wafted an odor of cabbage and stale fat

A taxi hooted at her angrily to get out of the road a man with a barrow load of flowers swore at her as he veered out of the way Alison did not hear either

Walking with a loose swinging stride her face white her grey eyes wide open and staring like those of a sleepwalker she went blindly with nothing in her mind but those bare facts Guy had been telling lies

He was the man whom Daphne had called notorious the doctor who had lost his practice because of his ways with women with girls

Far down New Oxford street near the turning to the British Museum she came out in the traffic and sighting a taxi hailed it Climbing in she ordered the driver to go on driving until she told him to stop

* * *

It was long past five when Alison got out at the house in Chester Square gave the taxi driver a [illegible] and let herself in

She was calm enough now much too calm She felt as though some mainspring inside her had broken as if nothing could ever matter any more

She pulled her hat off and walked straight into the library

They had finished tea Daphne sat on the sofa curled up with six cushions stacked behind her head Robert was standing by the fireplace looking grave a newspaper in his hand They both looked round as she came in

She could not see herself had made no effort to get tidy and could not guess how dishevelled she looked with her hat off her hair on end her cheeks stained with tears her eyes red rimmed and dark in her small chalk white face She came forward and stood stiffly addressing Daphne like a person who recites a lesson

I'm sorry I apologize for what I said You were right He is the man you thought I—I won't ever see him again With that she broke off and ran out of the room

She was nearly at the top of the front stairs when her father flying after her caught her by the arm

Alison? My dear what's happened?

She backed out of his grasp said in the same stiff hard voice Nothing I just know that's all

She ran then to her room would have shut and locked the door but he was too quick for her had his foot inside and [illegible] it open

[illegible] dear [illegible] must [illegible] As she gave way he followed her [illegible] Alison [illegible] been [illegible] while I was [illegible] I [illegible] you [illegible] mean what you said? You [illegible] really mean [illegible] love [illegible]

He was looking [illegible] and [illegible] that [illegible] he might have [illegible] against the bed

Yes [illegible] But [illegible] Her [illegible] opened and [illegible] She [illegible] he asked his shoulders

[illegible]

Daphne shook her head

I shouldn't [illegible] whisper[illegible] [illegible] after dinner [illegible] aspirin and [illegible]

When Alison came out of the bathroom her face bathed and powdered she found her father [illegible] cursing at the aspirin

They were [illegible] they were all going to the play By the time that Alison was dressed for dinner in her newest [illegible] dress with a [illegible] the slim waistline at the back all the traces of her storm were safely hidden

Daphne had been back earlier than [illegible] and had changed into sleek [illegible] satin the split skirt lined in the hem with turquoise blue even Robert in his dinner jacket with his grey moustache trimly [illegible] down seemed to have recovered

As they sat down to dinner they were all three determined to make the evening go smoothly

Have you decided where to go? she asked Daphne at the end of dinner

They might have been three polite strangers meeting

Why yes We're [illegible] thing

Daphne and Robert were glancing at each other across the table with a congratulatory air Alison could read those messages without words which said Good She's come round She's going to be sensible It's all over

She felt [illegible] amused It was very odd how nothing in the world made any difference now The idea of going to the Pyrenees which had appalled her simply did not matter any more

If Daphne wanted it she would go and would do her best to make up for that scene in the morning by being pleasant At least it would be better for her father than to have them quarrelling and if Daphne's love for him was just a sham well was love ever anything else?

Robert was almost joyful He [illegible] ing to be delightful he announced I got the special license today and I've wired the hotel for rooms I actually fixed to call for Madrid but no one can say that I'm not a good fiance I've cancelled it Let's [illegible] everything found the address of the Spanish hotel and got rooms and all at once [illegible] Only heaven knows what they'll be like Don't blame me Daphne if you have to live on dry bread and garlic

Don't worry Daphne promised I've not been there since I was a young girl and the [illegible] Spanish but superb and the scenery's quite marvellous It's fascinating The car road only goes part of the way and then you have to finish up on donkeys A [illegible] bandit [illegible] right up among the mountains with a waterfall on one side and a [illegible] all the Devil's Jump on the other a sort of bottomless cleft in the side of the mountain It's absolutely wild You'll love it Alison

Tomorrow Alison reads more terrible news in the paper

[illegible] [illegible] making all [illegible]

One Out, One In

France apparently [illegible] surplus of [illegible] has offered up another hopeful premier Fernand Bouisson [illegible] debut under [illegible] Apparently the [illegible] period of un[illegible] will [illegible] and fall [illegible]

The defeat of Pierre Etienne Flandin who sought plenary emergency powers to govern by decree until next October marked another climax in French political unrest Frenchmen are devout republicans as well as devout nationalists They want to do what is necessary for the preservation of the state but they do not want to do what might be bad for republican principles of government

It is Premier Bouisson's job to satisfy both desires As president of the chamber of deputies M Bouisson gained a reputation for political skill which is the primary qualification for the head of any French cabinet Though not what France knows as a strong man M Bouisson may develop strength in his new position French politicians do not merely happen they develop by [illegible] service in the government

There are many similarities between the problems of France and those of the United States In fact there are similarities between the problems of all governments these days in the sense that they are trying to reconcile expedient ways of accomplishing certain purposes with traditional methods In France as in the United States the issue is between centralization of power and the fear that centralization will destroy democracy Americans are specially capable of sympathizing with France If democracy is to survive it will have to be defended in those places where it has been given the fullest trials

An Old Friend

It is like old times to have Gen Hugh S Johnson back in Washington writing sketches of laws in hotel rooms attending meetings and sitting in with President Roosevelt on conferences to save the nation from its chiseling fringe The Washington atmosphere is different from that whose heady [illegible] in 1933 made the general a kind of national hero but he is moving in [illegible] as though nothing had happened

His reappearance is a reminder that the history of the new deal has not coagulated [illegible] Gen Johnson still remains an enigma He went from rags to riches in the summer of 1933 from riches to rags in the autumn of 1934 and now in the early summer of 1935 he is climbing the ladder of prestige again Those who had believed him dead must be startled by his emergence from limbo

Though Gen Johnson frequently is called [illegible] for the excesses which did most to weaken the blue eagle he is supposed to be one of its staunchest friends What damage he may have done must have been [illegible] by too zealous friendliness If [illegible] results as a [illegible] in the [illegible] of need there no longer will be any [illegible] to regard him [illegible] His [illegible] will have been proved beyond [illegible] of doubt

[illegible] of industry are his special [illegible] The [illegible] the Tories [illegible] and the Neanderthalers [illegible] worthy of his sword They [illegible] have driven him into the [illegible] will circle around and smite [illegible] if they are not careful [illegible] few men with such [illegible] for what [illegible] Gen Johnson's [illegible] two years of intimate [illegible] a few weeks at a time

A New Record

The [illegible] Memorial day race has [illegible] It has [illegible] its classic [illegible] for its [illegible] as a test of [illegible]

Obviously [illegible] natures which bring [illegible] as soon as the races [illegible] as an [illegible] sports event which lure [illegible] risk their lives They drive [illegible] racers for money and glory [illegible]

If it were not for the frequency of fatal accidents and the inevitably large number of accidents which easily might have been fatal there would be no need to seek justification for the event as a test of motors and [illegible] equipment Perhaps [illegible] justification is present [illegible] experience [illegible] adapted [illegible] danger [illegible] hazards of [illegible] has been [illegible] The [illegible] has been [illegible] safe [illegible] speed [illegible] each year after [illegible] interest [illegible] larger [illegible] One driver was [illegible] and his companion [illegible] sometimes [illegible] during the [illegible] had been lost [illegible] drivers [illegible] start [illegible]

[illegible] mechanical [illegible] was proved by the [illegible] set a new record by driving [illegible] after [illegible] in 4 hours 42 minutes [illegible] seconds which meant an average speed of [illegible] miles an hour [illegible] track built for cars [illegible] as high as three [illegible] unlike [illegible] United States [illegible] which would [illegible] the report

The President's Example

President Roosevelt is setting a good example for [illegible] by [illegible] the [illegible] of his administration calmly and thoughtfully The excitement the [illegible] fear and the intemperate [illegible] which have been common throughout the country the last few days [illegible] not affected the [illegible] in the White House to any important extent

Mr Roosevelt is aware of the gravity of the decision which curtails the authority of the new deal He understands fully its political implications yet he chooses to think of it in terms of a nonpartisan national problem If he has thought about revolt against the system which makes it possible for the supreme court to rule against an executive program enacted by congress he has not chosen to add to the expressions of other men who apparently are willing to hamstring the court to further their own convictions

In a long press conference Friday the President attempted to clarify his position The implications of the supreme court's decision in interpreting the interstate commerce clause of the Constitution to apply only to goods in interstate transit he declared raises an issue in practical government which must be decided eventually The decision on the recovery act he said was the most important handed down by the court since the Dred Scott decision before the Civil war

Inevitably the country tends to take its cue for behavior in any national situation from its political leader That is why Mr Roosevelt's calmness is admirable His career and his administration have been given a setback He has been forced to meet a crisis for which he was not prepared one for which he could not prepare himself If he keeps his mental balance under the circumstances his countrymen should be able to do at least as much

Still Trying

Attempts to maintain a state of peace and to create prosperity by international conferences have not been successful It is useless to repeat again the list of unsuccessful meetings since the World war

*Experience would seem to demand con*demnation of the whole idea of getting anywhere by the conference method Such condemnation has been made frequently but probably with less thought than the matter deserved

It is not after all the method which is at fault but the spirit There can be in short no cooperation unless there is a will to cooperate That is what has been lacking in international conferences since the World war

Sen Tydings of Maryland who has introduced a resolution requesting President Roosevelt to call an international conference for the settlement of debts curtailment of armaments stabilization of currencies and revival of trade displays a significant hopefulness Perhaps the omen for another conference is better now than it has been in many previous instances

The point is that nothing is being accomplished in the absence of effort Armaments are not being curtailed currencies are not being stabilized debts are not being settled and trade is not being revived Another conference might do no good but certainly it could do no harm

Men cooperate best where there is most need for cooperation Recognition of an international emergency for instance would be likely to guarantee the success of an international conference Sen Tydings may be ahead of time with his resolution which probably will not be heeded but it is significant that so capable a senator as he is still willing to try to do something to promote better international understanding

Behind The News In

Washington And Wall Street

BY PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON June 3 The course of reforms on of the new deal is now fixed [illegible] definite and [illegible] made because President Roosevelt does not wish to [illegible] to it in public just yet Details remain to be ironed out Freedom of action must be maintained But in his mind his purpose and his method of reviving his new deal have been personally determined

He will go through the motions of having congress pass some makeshift substitute law One of these will seek to reinstitute the *code system by voluntary co*operation among business groups probably under supervision of a powerless government commission

The legal approach will be through a redefinition by congress of the allowable limit of combina*tion* [illegible] it will be an amendment of the anti trust laws [illegible] not be called that It will encourage the formation of business associations with well defined objectives fixed by congress [illegible] as many as possible of the NRA principles It will not [illegible] much

The administration will make no claim that it will meet the wages and hours situation which was regulated by NRA

State Action

A second step will be proposed to meet the labor situation in a similarly makeshift way Its legal approach will be through a federal statute to protect any state from goods produced in other states under labor standards below its own This legal principle already has been approved by the supreme court in prohibition cases The same basic idea is embodied in the Hawes Cooper Act covering convict made goods

This means that the states would be encouraged to make their own NRA law and that the government would assume the power of enforcing them

For instance the New York state legislature would be asked to fix maximum working hours and minimum wages Any goods would be barred from the state unless produced under standards identical or better than those of New York The effect would be to cause all states to adopt identical minimum wage maximum hour provisions

It would require weeks if not months to obtain such state action

Necessity

No new dealer is very proud of these two ideas They have been accepted because there is nothing else to do immediately

It is recognized on the side that the voluntary associations will only pretend to be effective They will merely provide some semblance of order in the reorganization of business after the collapse of the NRA With no cent altered authority each business will naturally do as it sees fit Also the proposed state minimum wage maximum hour [illegible] is a long way from being adopted

In [illegible] three years it might provide a feasible basis for the new deal reform method if energetically pushed through congress and through the state legislatures

Real Purpose

What [illegible] by the new deal to amend the [illegible] commerce clause of the [illegible] The [illegible] among the new dealers [illegible] present

What has happened [illegible] the last week [illegible] the President has [illegible] given him a [illegible] legal [illegible] which [illegible] had [illegible] of [illegible] government [illegible] has anything affecting [illegible] commerce [illegible] common [illegible]

This bundled the whole question of a new deal into one composite issue It swept aside all the formidable natural objections to some phases of the new deal issue It implied the whole thing the good parts and the bad was not constitutional This is conceded to be strictly correct The court merely gave the Constitution a proper literal interpretation instead of winking at the issue as it did in the gold case

Technique

A Constitutional amendment giving the government authority to *control anything affecting inter*state commerce would present the issue in the best possible broad light from his standpoint

The strategic advantage of that course would make the picayunish fly swatting administration of the NRA comparatively unimportant Neither would the questions whether Tugwell knows his business whether subsistence homesteads are worth while whether stocks should be regulated or any of the other questions have to be met on their merits alone

The question would simply be [illegible] leave it

Do you want our new deal? Take Any political students will recognize the advantage of this

Fuel

The desirability of this method depends entirely on public opinion following the court decision This is being permitted to develop fully The thousands of telegrams received by the President indicate a sufficient basis for the movement

If strikes should develop later if business becomes involved in price cutting if the deflationary potentialities of the result are realized the surge for the movement would increase

Collaboration

The way the issue has played into Mr Roosevelt's hands has caused a rumor to be circulated here that he knew of it in advance and was glad to get it Also another rumor that Supreme Court Justice Hughes conferred with the President about it There is nothing in either of these tales

BY JAMES McMULLIN

NEW YORK June 3—Big business is sincere—for the moment at least—in its declared intention of adhering to code standards of hours and wages This policy is dictated by what might fairly be termed enlightened selfishness Many key executives are well aware that they cannot shirk their social responsibilities without inviting a kickback considerably more disturbing than NRA restrictions Moreover they feel that a genuine upturn is developing—and it wouldn't be exactly bright to jeopardize it by squeezing labor and bringing on a strike wave Labor threats to use force is necessary to maintain its wage and hour gains are taken at face value

It's true that most companies which have announced continuance of existing employment conditions add the qualifying word temporarily That appears to imply wage cuts and lengthened hours as soon as such changes are safe—[illegible] inference is somewhat unfair In most cases the qualification is simply a hedge against possible development of chiseling competition [illegible] are re[illegible] the [illegible] themselves [illegible] they must [illegible] In general they honestly hope [illegible] to

Whether [illegible] will be realized [illegible] question The answer will [illegible] in different industries Those which are highly [illegible] dominated by a few [illegible] [illegible] composed chiefly of [illegible] are due for [illegible] You can [illegible] it [illegible] up to the case [illegible] wage cuts and strikes [illegible] far more [illegible] This [illegible] NRA labor pro[illegible] least to lose by [illegible] cost

Potent

The most bothersome problem to industrial giants is where they stand under the Sherman and Clayton anti trust acts Some codes authorize cooperative practices which certainly conflict with strict interpretation of the laws In a few instances noted lawyers have wisely advised deliberate refusal to continue code *arrangements on a vol*untary basis for fear of anti trust liability

General New York sentiment however is that the anti trust laws will remain in mothballs The point is stressed that a government which is asking business to act as if the codes were still in effect can hardly punish corporations for heeding its wishes—so why worry?

The best informed sources neither share this blanket confidence nor apprehend widespread and rigorous anti trust prosecution They figure that Sherman act violations will be treated on their individual merits — depending chiefly on whether the company in question is still living up to NRA labor standards If so they optimistically predict it will be granted ab*solution* If not they expect the department of justice to get busy This is one legal method still available to the new deal to enforce wage and hour provisions Admittedly it's a crude and indirect weapon—but it could be quite potent if properly handled

Gains

The long awaited and much advertised demand for modernization of industrial plants actually began to gather momentum about a month ago

Makers of factory machinery report a remarkable increase of business for late April and May A number of manufacturers evidently got tired—all at once—of waiting for the revival of confidence their spokesmen of the National association said was a prerequisite to spending of this character

The demise of the blue eagle will undoubtedly speed up the renovation of plants and equipment Heavy industry is bound to benefit in a big way Some observers prophesy that its gains along this line will largely counteract the dreaded summer slump

Snapped

The investment appetite for high grade securities was well illustrated by the reception given to National Steel's $50,000,000 issue of 4% bonds They sold at a premium of 30 per $1000 bond and don't mature for 30 years Neither of these conditions would have been rated acceptable a few months back Yet the entire issue was snapped up in a couple of hours and dealers who wanted extra allotments were unable to get a nickel's worth above their original subscriptions

Comparative

The steel industry has shown marked gains in [illegible] so far this year against the same period in 34 but from here on the picture won't look so pretty for awhile Shipments [illegible] exceptionally large in May and June of last year because of [illegible] announced fo[illegible] There's no such factor operating to boost business now

Estimates [illegible] that May and June of [illegible] will have to average 600,000 [illegible] to bring the six months production figure up to [illegible] to [illegible] the 450,000 [illegible] recorded from January to April Such volume is as likely as finding Zulus at the South Pole —so half year statements won't look so encouraging But the point is made that we shouldn't [illegible] comparative statistics too [illegible]

Conscientious

New York was amused by Sen Wheeler's remark that he didn't know [illegible] more [illegible] than brain trusters Ben Cohen and Tom Corcoran [illegible] [illegible]

Lack of funds prevented the group from making progress, but several cities, notably Columbus, Tiffin and Portsmouth did deepen and widen channels of the Scioto and Sandusky rivers to help combat the flood menace.

Then in 1929 after spring flood damage had caused further havoc in Ohio the federal government authorized the army board of engineers for rivers and harbors to survey the flood areas in a nation-wide study.

A plan providing for establishment of seven large reservoirs by construction of dams was tentatively submitted for the central Ohio region.

Hurriedly organizing when the new deal's vast public spending programs were launched, citizens of these central Ohio counties early last year took up the federal engineers' reports and expanded them to hasten an application for a large slice of the federal funds with which to finance the recommendations.

Court Established.

A conservancy court of 17 judges of common pleas courts in the counties of the area was established after nearly 4,000 residents of the region petitioned the courts for establishment of a conservancy district. Appropriations of $25,000 tax funds by the counties provided for preliminary engineering work and the program was officially launched on Dec. 3, 1934, when the 17 judges approved the undertaking.

Recommendations of army engineers were enlarged to provide for 12 instead of seven reservoirs. Inventories for federal aid projects, financed by $30,000,000 federal funds, $4,000,000 state monies and $8,000,000 raised by assessing landowners in the area benefited by the program, were submitted to federal authorities this spring.

Formal application will be filed with federal work relief authorities as quickly as regulations are established.

Increased Interest Found In Frigidaire Features

Local Sales Firm Offers Low-Cost Refrigeration

Frigidaire Corporation Builds Many Exclusive Features in Latest Models Now on Display.

Mr. Horner in charge of Frigidaire Sales & Service for the Marion district states, "Regardless of adverse weather conditions, the interest in electrical refrigeration, and especially in Frigidaire, is more pronounced than ever before in history.

"People generally are awakening to the fact that safe refrigeration is real economy and those who have been postponing the purchase of one these modern home equipments are really paying for them in their loss through spoilage.

"Frigidaire is one investment for the home from which every member of the family realizes a marked and delightful return, and one which saves the house wife many useless steps and hours of worry.

Cost Is Now Low

"A few years back only those having large incomes could consider 'Frigidaire,' but today owing to mass production and purchasing power the Frigidaire Corporation is offering a far superior type of refrigeration at prices that are within the reach of the average wage earner, or in other words, 15 to 25 cents per day will put a genuine Frigidaire in the home.

"In addition to the economy of Frigidaire and its operation no one who has failed to try out one of these marvelous creations of high class engineering can appreciate what a woman can do in the way of making delicious ice cream and all varieties of frozen desserts without worry or labor on her part.

"Among many outstanding features exclusive with a genuine Frigidaire the company is laying special stress on the Frigidaire super freezer, twin cylinder compressor, quick release cube trays and five types of refrigeration in each machine, all features which cut down the cost of operation and the same time guarantee the acme of superior efficiency in daily performance over a long period of time.

Maintain Leadership

"Frigidaire never has been guilty of sacrificing quality to meet low priced, cheaply constructed refrigerators, and as a consequence they have maintained a marked leadership both in the household and commercial field of refrigeration, and 1935 portends to be the greatest year in the history of Frigidaire."

To those considering electrical refrigeration Mr. Horner invites a close check on the built-in value of Frigidaire, the world's leading refrigerator, some of which have been in constant operation in Marion for a period of 18 to 20 years.

The Stars Say--

For Tuesday, June 4

ACCORDING TO the lunar aspects, this may not be an important day in business, although some financial success may be expected through speculation or by the friendly intervention of influential friends. There may be some slight disappointments or an anxiety of a purely private nature.

Those whose birthday it is may be assured some financial advancement, either through speculative enterprises or through the friendly interest of those in place and power. Personal prestige and popularity are important, although there may be a trivial setback or disappointment. A social association may prove treacherous or mystifying.

A child born on this day will be efficient, intelligent and affable, with personal popularity contributing to its success.

Buick Spending $300,000 To Get Best Forgings

The relation of 200 ton drop hammers to hickory nuts was explained in Flint, Mich., by Robert H. Darnton, superintendent of the forge division of the Buick Motor Co., where more than $300,000 is being spent on the installation of a battery of new drop hammers on which Buick crankshafts will be forged.

"If you ever have cracked hickory nuts," said Mr. Darnton, "you may have noticed how easily they crack when placed on a heavy piece of steel or stone and how unsatisfactory the job is when the base of operation is something less substantial.

Such is the principle involved in the design of the drop hammer, on which Buick crankshafts and other parts are forged out of billet and bar steel. The efficiency and effectiveness of the machine is based on the ratio between the weight of the base and that of the hammer which strikes the blow."

The new Buick machines are called 14,000-pound hammers but they weight 400,000 pounds or more than 200 tons. Their huge rod and ram, which weighs 14,000 pounds—hence the 14,000 pound rating—strikes a mean effective blow of 200,000 pounds. Yet in skillful hands it can be made to crack a hickory nut neatly.

Buick's new crankshaft hammers symbolize the industry. They are huge, they represent a large investment, and they manufacture the product for which they are intended with a high degree of efficiency, producing forgings of the highest quality. By the use of such machines is the automobile industry enabled, year after year, to improve the quality and yet maintain the low cost of its cars.

RISE REPORTED FOR MAY HOME BUILDING

Residential Construction 80 Per Cent Ahead of Total for 1934 Period.

CHICAGO, June 3—Residential building continues to reflect encouraging improvement. For the initial half of May contracts let for this class of construction were approximately 80 per cent ahead of the total shown in the corresponding period of May, 1934. For the 37 states east of the Rocky Mountain, F. W. Dodge Corporation reported a residential building total of $22,072,500 for the first 15 days of May; during the first half of April the total was $20,810,900 while for the initial 15 days of May 1934, the volume was only $12,421,500.

The contract total for all classes of construction inclusive of residential building amounted to $60,961,300 for the initial half of May as against $61,069,900 for the first half of April and $67,181,400 for the first 15 days of May, 1934, the Dodge organization reports.

The April construction contract volume exceeded the total for March by a small margin. A loss from the volume reported for April of last year was shown, however, due to a falling-off in awards under the old PWA program. April contracts totaled $124,098,000 as against $122,940,500 for March and $131,157,000 for April, 1934.

Despite the loss from a year ago in total construction residential building contracts during April were higher than for any other month since the closing months of 1931. Private construction in April as apart from public work, made the best showing in more than three years with only one exception.

Gains in residential building were shown in April in each of the principal geographic territories as compared with last year except for the New England and the New Orleans areas. Residential contracts let during the first four months of 1935 in the 37 states totaled $112,517,200 as against only $80,242,000 for the corresponding four months of 1934. Commenting on the outlook the Dodge Bulletin states:

"This improvement over a year ago in residential building bids fair to continue for the remainder of the current year judging from the figures on contemplated projects. Contemplated residential building reported in April amounted to $89,721,000 as against only $54,485,000 for March and $55,074,300 for April of last year."

For charging automobile batteries at home a charger has been invented that works more rapidly than the usual device, tapering the charge as the power level of a battery rises to prevent damage.

Do You HATE TO MEET PEOPLE?

Some of us are so bashful that whenever a new face appears before us we mentally duck away! Maybe it isn't shyness so much as simply not realizing how very interesting new acquaintances can be.

Some people are shy about new foods too. One family we know has had pork and beans every Saturday night for ten years, and they see no reason for changing!

How much more interesting life—and dinner!—would be for that family with a new kind of meat, a vegetable prepared some other way, a new style in dessert. New foods—new faces—brighten our days and help make living an exciting game.

Look through the advertisements in this newspaper today for new ideas in foods. They're here, in abundance . . . recipes, tried and tested . . . favorite platters of favorite people . . . exotic dishes from exotic lands.

The advertisements bring you up-to-the-minute news of many things. Read them regularly. Form the habit of getting the most out of life—and the most for your money.

[illegible] a place [illegible] Marion softball [illegible] will have the privilege [illegible] their first night games [illegible] Lincoln park [illegible] of the hope [illegible] programs [illegible] the [illegible].

A number of [illegible] this [illegible] furious battles [illegible] scheduled [illegible] city leagues for the next five days [illegible] all circuits appear [illegible] to undergo [illegible] considerable [illegible] by the time [illegible] are completed.

Games Doubtful

Rains [illegible] eliminated virtually [illegible] play in the No. 2 Sunday School League for this afternoon [illegible] city diamonds were still rain soaked late this morning. United Brethren's aggregation with the only undefeated record in the circuit should retain its lead against the Wesley M. E. team at Garfield park if teams go into action.

Epworth Seniors and Calvary are scheduled to play the first nocturnal battle at Lincoln park Tuesday night if rain does not hold up installation of lights. First Reformed and Trinity teams dead locked for first place in the No. 1 Sunday School League will meet at President field.

The Baptists have had an easier time winning their two games in the league and are slight favorites over last year's city champions. It is expected that the encounter will be a sizzling pitching duel between Dale Schwaderer of Reformed and Rice of Trinity. Schwaderer holds an edge in pitching work this year but the Baptists have shown more strength at the plate.

Fast Games Listed

Lee Street and the Preables are scheduled to battle at Steam Shovel field in a fast No. 2 League fray tomorrow. St. Mary's strong outfit will meet the Epworth No. 1 team at Garfield park. Close decisions should result from all of this week's games.

The ill-fated No. 1 League will attempt to play off its postponed games of May 7 Wednesday night. Rain has halted play in this circuit for three sessions. St. Mary-Trinity game at Lincoln and the Calvary-First Reformed tilt at Garfield feature the postponed round.

What promises to be one of the feature struggles of the season is listed for Thursday night at Lincoln park when the Gasco and Silk Mill teams cross bats. This game is arranged for a night encounter and will bring together two of Marion's foremost slab artists.

Dale Schwaderer of Gasco will oppose Maynard Snyder, Weaver hurler, for the first time since the benefit game which closed softball activities last fall. Schwaderer must defeat the Silk Mill nine to keep the Gasco team in the running for the league championship. His team dropped its encounter with the Steam Shovel aggregation last week and another loss will all but drop them from title hopes.

The Shovelers, tied for the Industrial League top round, are favored to trounce the Huber team at Steam Shovel field. Pollak and Arts Hamburger Inn players should stage a fast battle at Lincoln in the twilight engagement.

A full round of close games is expected in the Commercial League Friday night when the Erie Traffic, Elks, Pleasant Lutherans and K. of P. teams battle to wreck a four-way split of first place. Pleasant will meet the K. of P. nine at Garfield and the Eagles and Elks will tangle at Steam Shovel field. A fast game is anticipated at President field where the Saratoga Grill team and the Westinghouse Cubs will meet. The battle of lodge teams, Eagles vs. Elks, promises to be a close game.

MARIETTA TO SEEK BIG RACE FOR RIVER

By The Associated Press

MARIETTA, O., June 3. — This old Ohio river town is casting covetous eyes on the 1936 intercollegiate crew races, hoping to wean them away from Poughkeepsie, and at the same time is girding itself for a fight to retain as a permanent fixture the Mid-America regatta inaugurated here Saturday.

As local officials announced their intention of going after the big intercollegiate event, reports leaked out that Wisconsin seeks to become the future setting of the Mid-America.

[illegible] report [illegible] real [illegible] the proposition that [illegible] has five lakes near Madison [illegible] one of which will [illegible] accommodate all the crews [illegible] Mid-America [illegible] problem in [illegible].

Rutgers took Saturday's race by half a length over Penn's third varsity crew while Marietta was third, Wisconsin fourth, Manhattan fifth and Rollins sixth. Ned Ten Eyck, Rutgers coach, said the local course is better than that at Poughkeepsie and that it shouldn't be a difficult task to wean the intercollegiates from the old setting on the Hudson.

SULLIVAN TO BAER
A Pictorial History of the Heavyweights

XII.—DEMPSEY VS FIRPO—1923

By all odds the shortest, fiercest and most spectacular fight in the history of heavyweight boxing under the Marquis of Queensberry code was Jack Dempsey's conquest of Luis Angel Firpo, "The Wild Bull of the Pampas," before 90,000 fans in the Polo Grounds, New York, the night of Sept. 14, 1923.

The 192-pound Dempsey, floored for no count by a wild swing in the first five seconds of the fight, came raging back to slug it out with the 216-pound Argentinian and knock him down seven times in the first round. Near the end of the round Firpo lashed out with another wild right which caught Dempsey high on the chest and catapulted him head first amid the typewriters and telegraph machines in the press row (see picture).

Regaining the ring a split second before the count of 10 Dempsey managed to evade Firpo's bull-like rushes for the few remaining seconds of the round. He went to work at the outset of the second round, his famous one-two punch putting Firpo down thrice more before the challenger finally was unable to rise—from his tenth trip to the canvas. The end came after only 57 seconds of the second round.

Dempsey received $170,000 for his less than four minutes of fighting.

There was an aftermath of complaints from the Firpo camp over failure of Referee Johnny Gallagher to send Dempsey to a neutral corner after each knockdown, and also over the fact friendly sports writers helped Jack get back in the ring, but there was no general disagreement with the feeling that the better man had won.

Expect Registered Shoot Will Attract Large Field

The third registered shoot sponsored by the Marion Gun club scheduled for Wednesday afternoon at the club range on the Edison road is expected to attract one of the largest crowds of marksmen to shoot here this season.

Wednesday's large attendance is believed almost a certainty as it preceded the state meet in Youngstown by only two days. Many trapshooters will start for the state meet in time to compete in the shoot here.

A number of marksmen from Southern Ohio will stop here, they informed gun club officials last week. Included in the group to visit here will be Mr. and Mrs. Mark Hootman, the former a winner of the National title at Vandalia and the latter the present secretary-treasurer of the Ohio State Trapshooting association.

Ten years ago a Marion man, Homer Hirth of 111 Blaine avenue, won the state championship. Mr. Hirth does little shooting now but takes a great interest in the state meet. A large number of marksmen from Marion and vicinity plan to enter the state meet at Youngstown Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Trapshooters from all parts of the middle west will gather at Youngstown June 7, 8 and 9 to battle it out for high gun honors of the state and non-resident trophies. Last year it was a fight to the finish with young Bill Eldred of Cincinnati on top when the bell rang in the state championship competition. Eldred scored 199 out of 200 to cop the feature race of the week while hard-hitting C. F. Morgan of Corning landed in second position with 10 breaks.

Joe Hiestand, Hillsboro, the outstanding gunner of the 34 season, took the Doubles Championship with 96 out of 100 while John Parker of Waverly captured the Handicap competition with 95 out of 100. Eldred again showed his superiority when the targets had been checked by winning with plenty to spare the All-Around title.

It is much more difficult to pick an Ohio state champion than it is to pick the winner of the National League baseball race or a Derby. Only one shooter, Charlie Bogert of Sandusky, has repeated this win in the past 10 years. Bogert won the coveted honors in 1929 and again in 32. Fred Harlow, the brilliant Newark gunner, has won the crown on three different occasions— in 1930, 22 and 21.

The officers of the Ohio State Trapshooting association which met in Marion this spring are C. P. Wehr, Hamilton, president; R. W. Reese, Niles, vice president; Mrs. Mark Hootman, Hicksville, secretary-treasurer, and E. H. Schmidt, Xenia, Charles Bogert, Sandusky, Dr. J. M. Oder, Toledo, and J. F. Dunn, Pomeroy, directors.

Here are the 10 past winners of the Ohio State Trapshooting crown:

1925—Homer Hirth, Marion, 197; 1926—C. A. Young, Springfield, 198; 1927—S. D. Geddes, Harrisburg, 198; 1928—W. J. Spangler, Taillon, 196; 1929—Charles A. Bogert, Sandusky, 195; 1930—H. F. Roberts, East Fultonham, 198; 1931—J. F. Hiestand, Hillsboro, 199; 1932—Charles Bogert, Sandusky, 195; 1933—C. F. Morgan, Corning, 198; 1934—William Eldred, Cincinnati, 199.

CARDINALS THREATEN LEAD OF NEW YORK IN NATIONAL LEAGUE

St. Louis Wins Sixth Straight, Yanks, Detroit, Cleveland Climb

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The same sort of batting that marked the close of the 1934 National League season is on again with the Cardinals coming up with a tremendous rush to threaten the leadership of the New York Giants.

Only, so far, the Giants haven't shown any signs of the crack [illegible] it cost them the pennant last September.

Buried in fourth place almost from the start, the Cards tuned up at the end of their eastern tour, then opened up the machine to trip [illegible] last week to pile up six straight victories and move into second place.

Cut Giants' Lead

Today they had cut the Giant's lead to 3½ games as they won No. 6, 8 to 5, over the Cubs while the New Yorkers came to the end of their seven game winning string with a 2-0 shutout at the hands of the Braves.

Trailing 5-1 going into the last inning the Cards pounded their former teammate Tex Carlton to score one run and leave the corners crammed when Larry French took the hill. Jimmy Collins belted French's second pitch for a homer and when Chicago threatened in the last half of the inning Dizzy Dean came in to save the game by disposing of two pinch hitters.

The Cubs, beaten in 13 of their last 21 games, sank into a virtual tie with Brooklyn, holding fourth by one percentage point and trailing Pittsburgh by two games after the Pirates whitewashed Cincinnati 8 to 0 on Jim Weaver's five hit flinging.

The Giants' hitters couldn't fathom the offerings of Bob Smith while the Braves, aroused by Babe Ruth's announcement of his intended retirement, smacked out a run off Clyde Castleman in the sixth and another on Bill Urbanski's homer in the eighth. The Phillies kept Brooklyn from moving into the first division by beating the Dodgers 7 to 5 on a three run ninth inning rally.

Indians Down Browns

In the American League Detroit bowled over the White Sox 10 to 5 with a 14 hit attack on four pitchers while the Yanks belted six home runs, two by Bill Dickey, and trimmed the Red Sox 7 to 2. The Yankee home run production was the best one game job of the season and fell just one homer short of tying the major league record.

As a result the Tigers moved into fourth place ahead of Boston while the Yanks increased their lead over Chicago to two games. The Pale Hose remained only a half game ahead of the Indians, who downed the St. Louis Browns 6 to 2 with the aid of Earl Averill's third homer in two days and one by Hal Trosky.

The Athletics moved up within a game of the sixth-place Senators by beating them 8 to 7 with a ninth inning run after Washington had tied the count with three in the same frame.

WRESTLING PROGRAM TO BE HELD INDOORS

Unfavorable Weather Prompts Delay in Starting Outdoor Season

Unfavorable weather conditions today prompted local wrestling promoters to postpone opening of the outdoor mat program. Tonight's wrestling card will be held as usual at the Steam Shovel gymnasium.

Appearing in a double main go card of 90 minutes each will be Jimmy Lott and the Masked Terror and the Black Panther and Ken Hollis of Arizona. The latter is a newcomer to the Marion mat. He is well known in eastern wrestling centers and is expected to give plenty of opposition to the Panther.

Lott, former University of Alabama athlete, has displayed remarkable mat ability here during the past two weeks. He won from Jack Kennedy and Speedy Schaeffer here in successive weeks and is out to defeat the Terror.

It is expected that the Mystery Man will be forced to show as much strength and more wrestling ability than he did last week to defeat Lott. The Terror, wrestling clean against Buck Weaver last week, has made no such promise for tonight's bout. A 20-minute opener at 8:30 o'clock will precede the double feature.

By The Associated Press

In their last three games the Birds managed to [illegible] the ball 12 times, a large factor in [illegible] feats which dropped them [illegible] the first division [illegible]. They made four errors [illegible] night, were charged with [illegible] Saturday and committed [illegible] yesterday.

Yesterday's trio of [illegible] merely helped the Indians to pace [illegible] to an 11 to 3 victory. The Indians belted three Columbus hurlers for 16 hits with [illegible] men in the lineup getting at least one.

The Indians led the league today by [illegible] percentage points as they [illegible] with Minneapolis in games won and lost. The Indians had 21 victories and 14 defeats for 6?? while the Millers who divided a double header with Milwaukee had won ?? out of 41 games for 614.

Dennis Galehouse outpitched Luke Hamlin in the first game to give Minneapolis a 2 to 0 victory over the Brewers. The Brewers collected 17 hits off Buck Marrow in the second game for a 13 to 4 decision.

Kansas City defeated St. Paul 3 to 1 in another pitchers' battle. Hal Smith held the Saints to five hits while the Blues obtained seven off Lee Stine. Louisville continued to make it unpleasant for Toledo by winning both games of a doubleheader 7 to 5 and 3 to 0.

COLORED NINE WINS TILT AT MT. GILEAD

The Marion Colored Independents defeated the Campbell Market baseball team Sunday at Mt. Gilead 13 to 11 on a muddy field.

The Marionites had things pretty well their own way until the sixth inning when the Mt. Gilead team pounded Terry, pitching his first game for Marion, from the mound. Rains interrupted the game several times and prevented fast play. Robert Brown and C. West hit home runs for the Marion team.

Score by innings:

Mt. Gilead	000 ?10 013—11	15 4

GOPHERS NEED ONE WIN TO GAIN TITLE

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 3. — A victory over Wisconsin, with two games in which to win it, was all that stood between Minnesota and the Western Conference baseball title today.

The Gophers had seven victories and two defeats and needed to defeat the Badgers today or tomorrow at Madison to add baseball honors to their 1934 football title. The games marked the end of the conference season and Illinois, Chicago and Ohio State were pulling for two Wisconsin victories.

Keith Brown To Vie With Graber for Vaulting Mark

Yale Star Sets New World Record for Pole Vault at National College Meet.

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW [illegible], June 3. — Two young men who have explored more of the stratosphere than [illegible] Keith Brown of Yale and William Graber of Southern California will [illegible] to settle their spectacular [illegible] regarding [illegible] in the [illegible] at Princeton June 15.

Both had already welcomed the bid for post graduate competition in a meet headlined by the Cunningham - Lovelock - Bonthron - Venzke mile race and Brown contributed a dramatic build up for [illegible] Saturday at Harvard Stadium by clearing the world pole vault record of 14 feet 5⅛ inches.

The Yale captain's farewell of the college athletic wars not only wiped out Graber's intercollegiate A. A. A. A. mark of 14 feet ½ inch made in 1931 at Philadelphia but also eclipsed by three-eighths of an inch the world record of 14-4¾ set by Graber in the 1932 Olympic tryouts at Palo Alto.

It is conceivable, if conditions are right, that Brown and Graber may celebrate their get together by taking a shot at the theoretical limit of 15 feet.

Brown helped the east carry off a bare majority of first places, eight out of 15 in the IC4A finals, but nothing the old guard had to offer otherwise was sufficient to check its out by Southern California's Trojans in the battle for team honors. Dean Cromwell's boys, featuring a half dozen sophomores, registered two of the four record performances, captured four first places and rolled up 51 points in 11 events.

The next Trojan objective is the dual meet at Los Angeles with Ohio State featuring Jesse Owens, the one man team, on June 15. The [illegible] will have less [illegible] beating Owens in an [illegible] Negro sensation's [illegible] than they likely will [illegible] turing the national collegiate championships at Berkeley.
